Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

My Brother the Writer

Just before Columnist Drew Pearson died a couple of weeks ago, a column appeared nationally under the name of Pearson's associate, Jack Anderson.

The latter, a 46-year old, soft-spoken Mormon Sunday school teacher, who joined Pearson in 1947, probably did the column himself because at the time it was written Pearson lay dying in a hospital.

The column is intriguing because it brought out into the open what most newsmen have known for years about President Johnson's brother Sam.

Little was written or said about Sam before now simply because nearly everyone has some sort of skeleton in his closet. Just because it was a presidential closet made it no greater news beat.

Even newsmen can have sympathy for a plight like that. It served no useful purpose to report Sam's meanderings since he was "famous" only by osmosis — and by the lottery of birth to a VIP.

But when Sam wrote a book, he took the center of the stage with the spotlights on full. The book, yet to be published, is titled "My Brother Lyndon." It is suspected that much hitherto unpublished family material will get the light of day in Sam's book. Sam was the relative about whom the family seldom spoke and it should suggest that some of the resultant hostility will show through.

The book is unauthorized which means that it may also show the seamer side of the Johnson family — if there is such.

LBJ had heard that Sam was writing a book but Sam stayed far away from him once he embarked on the venture. He was absent from the family celebration at LBJ Ranch at Christmastime. He rejected an invitation to accompany LBJ on Air Force One on his last flight as president. He also turned down an invitation to be present at LBJ's last State of the Nation address.

Sam's life has been frustrating, says Anderson. He was LBJ's errand boy, living in the backroom shadow of the president. Just as Lyndon peaked, Sam fell in a bathtub and broke his leg. It failed to heal properly and it had to be broken again.

Sam acquired a reputation for drinking too much. He was confined to a Myrtle Beach S.C. hospital in 1964, exhausted, alcoholic and emaciated.

There, a nurse swore out a warrant for his arrest when a check he didn't remember signing, bounced.

Another time, Sam and a lady friend were jailed south of the border after an altercation in Mexico. He had trouble convincing Mexican authorities that he was LBJ's brother but he finally succeeded and was released.

LBJ repeatedly had to bail Sam out of trouble, and, according to Anderson, "arranged through the late Senator Olin Johnston, D-S.C. to quash a bad check charge against Sam."

Clark Clifford also pulled strings to keep the story out of the newspapers.

Anderson says that LBJ once told his brother "If you just stay out of trouble until I leave I'll make you president of Chase Manhattan bank."

One of the items in Sam's book that was sure to embarrass LBJ was about Senator Mike Mansfield who succeeded LBJ as Senate leader. Sam wrote that LBJ didn't like anyone as smart as himself as a deputy and selected "Professor" Mansfield because of his mediocrity. Anderson said the publishers edited that passage out of the book, however.

Sam attacks the Kennedys scathingly for the posture they assumed following John Kennedy's death but he reports a strong rapport between LBJ and Nixon.

Sam claims his brother used the late Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Style Bridges to keep Texas District Attorney Charlie Harris in office during the Eisenhower years. He claims Bridges called then-Attorney General Herbert Brownell and reminded him "You can't even buy toilet paper without my permission." As a result, Harris was kept in office.

The book will undoubtedly create a lot of ripples and it should add to the history of the personal life and times of LBJ.

Anderson's column appears in some 500 newspapers across the nation.

VA Hopes For Prompt GI Bills

The Veterans Administration is as anxious as the veteran to have G.I. education checks arrive on time this fall, said Gordon R. Elliott, manager of VA's Northern California Regional Office.

Judging from experience going back to a quarter of a century through three G.I. Bills, Elliott says the number of delays would be reduced drastically if veterans and schools did their part of the required paperwork — and did it on time.

Following Instructions

If the veteran who was in college last semester followed instructions and returned his Certification of Attendance at the end of the last term, he has nothing more to do before his checks start arriving this fall, assuming the college registrar follows through and promptly submits the completed enrollment certifications to the VA.

If the veteran did not return his Certification of Attendance, he should do so immediately to reduce the period of delay. If the certification is lost, the veteran should contact the VA office that issued it to him.

New Enrollees

Elliott pointed out that veterans enrolling for the first time — or have changed college or program — must be certain:

1. They have obtained a proper Certificate of Eligibility from the Veterans Administration.

2. They have submitted this Certificate to the college registrar.

3. The college registrar returned the completed certificate to the VA.

Because of the heavy workload generated during fall enrollment, checks may not reach some veterans for as long as 60 days from the time the enrollment certifications are sent to the VA from the schools.

Planners Reject Mukai's Mobilhome Request Again

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A special use permit for a 400-space mobile home park in Lemon Grove was denied unanimously on Friday by the County Planning Commission.

The commission had heard the matter several weeks ago, but had indicated the applicant, Thomas D. and Abraham K. Mukai, would have to revise the plans considerably before approval would be gained.

The land is at the west of Sweetwater and south of Palm St. The westernmost portion of the site will be taken by route 125 freeway which will also cut off access to Sweetwater road.

No substantial change in the plans was presented to the commission, and the plot remained a square grid system

GREAT-GRANDMOTHER — Theresa Kristine Rover, 102 years old, is visited by her great-grandchildren as she nears her 103rd birthday on November 27. Mrs. Rover, who was born in Norway, lives presently at 1728 Dayton dr., Lemon Grove. Last week she was honored by the California Bicentennial Celebration Commission, together with other senior citizens of the state. Visiting great-grandmother Rover in the photo are Randy and Julie Eichmann, of 6371 Twin Lakes dr., and Letty and Eric Rosado, all of La Mesa.

Army Parachutists Jump For 200th

The U. S. Army's roving parachute ambassadors, the Golden Knights, will be one of the featured attractions at the San Diego 200th Anniversary Air Show Sept. 13 and 14 at Miramar Naval Air Station.

Considered to be among the finest parachutists in the world, the Golden Knights have an average of 850 jumps per man.

They are the Army's top display unit and each year perform before millions of people across the nation and the try, the Knights are also formidable competitors who hold 87 out of 128 men's world parachuting accuracy records and have produced two world and five national parachuting champions.

The Knights have been frequently called upon to help develop new parachuting equipment and techniques for the nation's airborne forces, the space program and other governmental agencies.

The Golden Knights demonstration jumps are made from an altitude of 13,500 feet.

At two-and-one-half miles above the ground, the jumpers light smoke grenades attached to their boots so that their paths are marked for spectators below.

The Golden Knights of the Army parachute team consists of two demonstration units, the black team and the gold team, and a competition unit, composed of men from demonstration units.

The precision jumpers have represented the Army on every U. S. national parachute team. A Golden Knight served as captain of the U. S. team that, in 1968, won the United States' first overall team gold medal in the World Parachute Meet.

Country Owes $1.6 Trillion

What's new on the debit side of the American balance sheet? About 1.6 trillion dollars.

That was the total amount owed by government, private business and individuals as of mid-year. U.S. debt is rising about 100 billion dollars annually, and is twice what it was a decade ago.

Americans owe more than half a trillion dollars on home mortgages, personal loans, installment credit, etc.

Taxpayers on the average must extract a little over 21 cents from every dollar they take home to meet bill payments.

Corporations have run up a 600 billion dollar bill to finance new plants and equipment, while federal debt is hovering around the 300 billion dollar mark.

State and local governments owe approximately 133 billion dollars.

Americans currently owe about 35 million dollars on the autos they drive.

Despite the high amount of debt in the nation, citizens are holding up well. This is probably because private income in the past five years has risen even faster than debt.

Most of the money borrowed has been for valid needs — homes, business expansion — nearly all of the debts are paid quickly and consistently.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Dept. sent two engine companies, about 24 men, to 6933 Federal Blvd. Monday morning to put out a fire at a Fish 'N Chips food handling establishment.

The fire, which set off alarms at 5:15 a.m., caused extensive damage to the store, room and attic of the building, and extensive slope damage to adjacent buildings.

Cause of the blaze remains unknown, but is being investigated.

A small grass fire on Sept. 3 was extinguished at 2090 Massachusetts ave., the cause of the fire given as children playing with matches, with no damage reported.

One rescue incident reported for the week, on Sept. 3, Elaine Magazza, 29, of 3157 Crane st., came to the station to have a ring removed from a finger, after a grill from a kitchen stove fell on her hand. No further first aid was necessary.

Grovan Refused EC FM Channel

Andrew Kerr, operator of a health food shop in Lemon Grove, was denied an application for assignment of FM channel 297 in El Cajon.

The Federal Communication Commission, in turning down Kerr's petition said 12 FM stations now exist in San Diego and El Cajon in addition to sir AM stations.

FM channels for La Mesa and La Jolla were also rejected.

Several years ago Kerr asked the L.G. Chamber to support him in his attempt to acquire a channel but asked that his request be kept "secret".

His bid was described in the next issue of this newspaper.

Work Complete On Route 94

With the exception of a few days of guard rail work, the route 94 widening through Lemon Grove has been completed.

The work, which started November 13, widened the strip from Home ave. in San Diego to Grove st. in Lemon Grove, from six to eight lanes.

The project also included the construction of an east-bound off-ramp to Kelton rd., guard rail along the full length of the project, and cable barrier between Interstate 5 and Wabash boulevard.

Also included was the updating of many roadside items to the latest freeway safety standards, such as break-away light standards with aluminum bases, and removal of signs from island noses.

The project was constructed by Hazard, Maxwell and Matich at a cost of approximately $2 million, the State Division of Highways said.

Grove Woman Among First of Her Sex To Give Drivers' Tests

by Max Goodwin

She's cute and she's sharp.

She's the only woman in the area certified to give drivers a Department of Vehicles road test and her ability has set the stage for many of her sex to follow, her superior said this week.

The woman, Ann M. Hambrick, who lives at 7138 London lane, Lemon Grove, is one of a small handful of females chosen for the testing job. Prior to this, the tests were administered by males.

Her present assignment is at the Chula Vista branch of the Department of Motor Vehicles where she works for another Lemon Grove resident, Paul Haider, of 7216 Pearson st.

Miss Hambrick, who confides that her singleness will not last much longer, is not only a certified examiner but she is a branch relief manager. She travels to various branches where she takes over for the manager exercising all of his responsibilities and authority. She is the only woman relief manager in the Department.

It is her job as an examiner that creates chuckles.

"I always smile when I see the surprised look on the face of men who come to take the drivers' test," Women, she said, usually express happiness that they have been assigned a woman examiner.

A Marine Sergeant during her Oceanside assignment shook his head in disbelief. "I never thought I'd see the day when a woman could tell me how to drive!"

A truck driver in Escondido wasn't expecting a woman when Miss Hambrick told him she would conduct the test. He jumped out of the truck, held the door open for her on the passenger side and excitedly wiped off the seat with his handkerchief," she laughed.

Miss Hambrick, who is a pleasing 115 pounds "and reducing" said she has never had a man smart talk her. "It's strictly business with me and I think they know it. It is also probably that because we represent the law, they have a tendency to be less fractious," she said.

"Sure, they come in with alcohol on their breath once in a while. I ask them to come back when they haven't been drinking. So far, I've had no difficulty along that line," she said.

She does have difficulties, though. In Escondido the other day a fellow drove through a red light and turned the wrong way up Route 395.

"It always comes as a momentary shock when a driver plows through a stop sign or a red light," she said.

One of the rewarding things is when a man — or a woman, for that matter — asks "Can I wait for you?" she said.

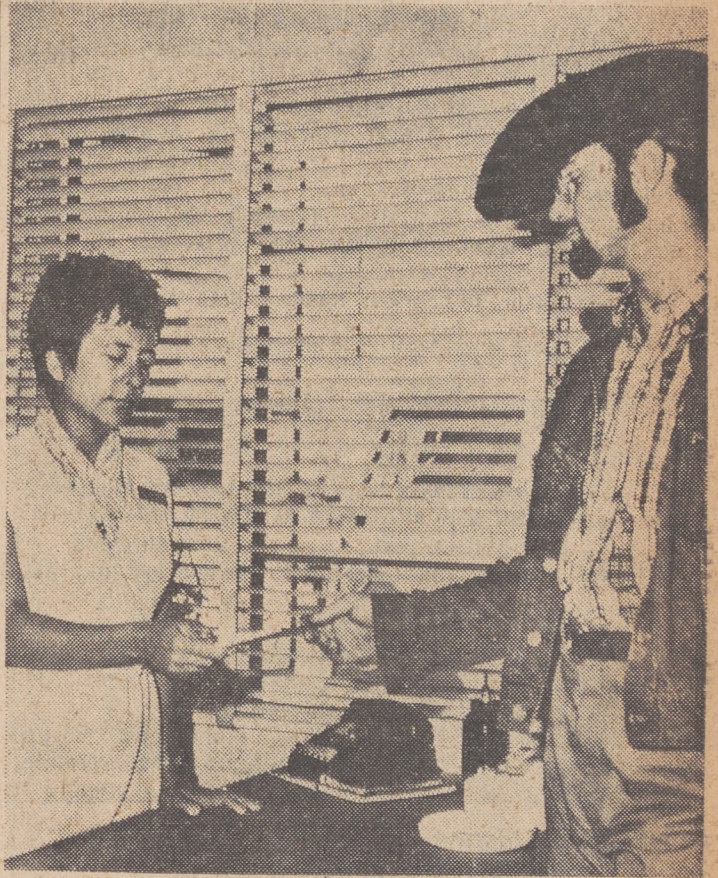

This week she is off to Blythe for a relief stint.

Since Lemon Grove is her home, she follows her golf hobby at Singing Hills. "It helps the reducing program," she said. She shoots a 52 on the short course, she said.

About her job, "The Department of Motor Vehicles is growing. I see it everywhere I serve as a reliever. There are more drivers and there is more work, she said.

In most branches the office is understaffed but dedicated people who comprise the Department work a little harder — and toss in frequent smiles, she said.

"It's our way of telling the public we're glad to have jobs serving them," she concluded.

D.M.V. EXAMINATION — Ann M. Hambrick, of Lemon Grove, is area's only female driving license tester for California Department of Motor Vehicles, studies application of John Nicholson prior to giving road test.

Vets Eligible For 20 Years

The Veterans Administration reminded returning veterans they are eligible for home loans for 12 to 20 years after they get out of service.

Eligible veterans who served after January 31, 1955, will have a maximum of 20 years from the date of their discharge or until March 3, 1976, whichever is later, to take advantage of their G.I. home loan benefit.

To determine the expiration date of his own eligibility, each veteran who served after January 31, 1955, can assume that he has 10 years after his discharge from active duty plus one year for each three months of military service, VA explained.

A Viet-Nam era veteran with two years service, for example, would have 18 years after discharge to use his G.I. Bill loan guaranty entitlement.

G.I. interest rate is now 7 1/2 per cent.

Local Merchants Ready

It seemed like forever to many parents but here it comes Monday.

The opening of school. That means shoes and socks, underwear, outer dress and all the accessories must be in the home and fitted by the time the week-end is over.

Local merchants invite you to shop-at-home with back-to-school offerings in this week's newspaper.

Shopping at home has many advantages. Your local merchant stands behind what he sells. He'll be here tomorrow. He transacts business on a person-to-person basis as compared to the impersonal computerized method.

Shop this week. Shop at home. It pays.

Church Plans Sale of Books

"Beautiful Books at a Bargain" is the descriptive slogan adopted by St. Andrews Episcopal Church, La Mesa, for the Book Fair scheduled for October 17-18 at the church Parish Hall, 4803 Jackson dr. The hours will be 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., on the 17 and 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. on the 18.

The Book Fair, a new idea in money raising, is far more than that for at the low prices placed on books it becomes more of an exchange. One donor brings a book which has been read and enjoyed for another to buy and at the same time it can be replaced for another's favorite book for as low as twenty-five cents.

Mrs. Louis Gilje and Mrs. Roger Gieske from the Parish library committee have been sorting, marking and classifying books all summer.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Your comments regarding the Republican Dinner featuring the Vice President of the United States, Spiro Agnew, have been called to my attention.

Unfortunately much of what you say is true regarding the fact that a number of persons at the dinner did not receive adequate service after the Vice President entered the room and, in some instances, some of the diners did not receive their desserts or additional coffee.

However, it is also true, as you could have discovered by making a simply inquiry at the time, that the Secret Service would not allow any of our personnel into the room or on the floor to complete the service of the dinner once the program started.

Upon checking you will find that the dinner, as it so often happens at events of this nature, was delayed approximately 30 minutes. Our personnel were standing by ready at the scheduled dinner time.

In attempting to conform with the Vice President's schedule, the program started only 10 minutes after the scheduled time. We were, therefore, required to serve in excess of 600 diners in 20 minutes less time than allocated in the planning.

And though we believe that no one can produce and serve a function with the efficiency of our organization, it was impossible to perform this task within the time allowed with the aforementioned restriction imposed upon us by the Secret Service.

You will also be interested to know that we were prepared to serve the desserts and coffee following the program but, due to the "question and answer period" which took place (as referred to in your article), the program ended abruptly and the diners departed.

I trust a clarification for your readers is in order.

Cordially,

Hugh O'Brian Heads Lung Disease Fight

Hugh O'Brian, television, stage and screen star, will serve as national campaign chairman for the 1969 Breath of Life campaign to fight children's lung diseases.

Robert L. Maxwell, president of the San Diego Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, announced O'Brian's acceptance of the post.

Maxwell said O'Brian will make personal appearances, radio and television appeals and speeches in behalf of the broadened program of the foundation.

The group, formed to find a control for incurable cystic fibrosis, this year is extending its program to cover asthma, bronchitis, emphysema and other serious lung diseases.

Dr. Milton Graub, national president, explained that many children suffering from chronic lung diseases other than cystic fibrosis are being examined and treated in the 110 C/F Centers across the nation.

O'Brian, on tour of summer theaters with "Cactus Flower" said, "I am proud to be a part of this battle for breath and life for babies and youngsters with lung diseases."

"I don't see how anyone could fail to respond to this opportunity to help children with breathing difficulties."

"While cystic fibrosis is the most serious chronic disease affecting children's lungs, other youngsters with asthma or chronic bronchitis or children's emphysema have many of the same problems," he said.

"It is good to know that they, too, will benefit from the work of the cystic fibrosis foundation."

O'Brian, has been conferring with Dr. Graub and other foundation officials in New York to become familiar with the medical and research programs of the group.

Student Describes Life In Germany

By SUSAN SERR

What would you do if suddenly, one morning, you woke up in the country of Germany and were there to stay over ten months?

There would be many surprises awaiting you — many pleasant, many interesting and some, perhaps, just a little annoying.

I guess I noticed little annoying things first such as closing all doors. Germans live in a home of closed doors which I felt really was overstepping privacy and actually rather unfriendly. However, to them it's tidy.

For the most part, however, the German people are excellent hosts. But in the north, where I stayed, the temperament of the people is quite aloof and restrained. You really have to work to get to know the people.

The system of education is perhaps one of the big changes I experienced. At 8 a.m. classes began in an old, dark, five-story building, briefly used in WW II to house political prisoners. Methods of brightening up German Gymnasiums, the university preparatory schools, just haven't been brought to the country's attention.

The students had to keep up with thirteen different subjects: German, English, Latin or French, Chemistry, Physics, Math, History, Geography, Economics, Religion, Art, Music and Gym.

Generally, there are little or no extra-curricular activities which are school affiliated. We (at our school) were lucky to have a Choir, Orchestra, Drama club, Art Workshop and Photo Lab.

However, once home from school, family life was very calm. The bustling here and there for club meetings and church group, just grabbing a bite to eat, is not the ordinary. The Germans like to take family life easy and above all to eat well.

After an exciting three-week bus trip through Germany with fifty-six other Americans Abroad (AFS) I was all ready to come home to my family and the American way of life.

I'm trying to "practice" my German and keep in touch with friends through the writing and reading of letters. Even then, however, I do miss my German host family and all the warm friends I made, so I know that I haven't seen that wonderful country of hard-working, fun-loving people and beautiful green countryside for the last time.

Aufwiedersehen!

REDLANDS — The University of Redlands welcomed 494 new students to its campus Sept. 5, including four Mt. Miguel High graduates.

Arriving Friday afternoon to begin their college life at Redlands were Robert Vryheid, Nila Repard, Jerry Segawa, and Edward Zintz.

Vryheid, of Brookside, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vryheid, 3714 Fairway dr., and hopes to major in Liberal arts. Nila Repard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Repard, 2041 Eldora st., is interested in sociology.

The new students met their counselors Friday evening during a series of backyard picnics at the homes of the faculty members who will serve as advisors. Meanwhile, University President George H. Armacost addressed parents of the new students at a 5 p.m. dinner on campus.

Candy Company Gets Clabe Hangan From San Francisco

Clabe Hangan, fresh from a great week in San Francisco, arrives in San Diego tonight, and will perform at the Candy Company, 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

Hangan, one of the most popular folk and blues singers from the Bay Area, will be accompanied by a flutist, as well as his own guitar.

According to Dick Russell, owner of the La Mesa Candy Co., Hangan is one of the top folk guitarists in the country today.

Russell is expecting a good crowd for the appearances, Thursday through Sunday evenings.

Last week, Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee played before sellout crowds for four nights in a row.

Sonny and Brownie played before the largest Thursday night crowd and the largest Sunday night crowd in the two-year history of the club.

FOOD POISONING

A health hazard unknown to most young wives because of refrigeration, recently struck down a group of Boy Scouts on a hiking trip to the Grand Canyon.

That hazard, which every housewife should understand, is bacterial food poisoning. Although it is not nearly so common today as it once was, food poisoning is a constant threat in warm weather, particularly to those living away from modern kitchens.

Invariably, the victim suffers at least three to five days with vomiting, diarrhea, mild fever and severe discomfort.

If there is no compensation for the dehydration from vomiting and diarrhea, it can be serious, even fatal.

Only man, monkeys and cats are susceptible to the most common kind of food poisoning, staphylococcal gastroenteritis.

Contamination can occur in the cleanest kitchen and with fastidious preparation, unless food is handled properly.

Any time food preparation is followed by a long interval without refrigeration, the food poisoning danger exists.

The longer the interval before eating time and the warmer the climate, the greater the hazard.

The foods most vulnerable are milk, meats, mayonnaise, cream pies and cheeses. The best way to safeguard your family on a picnic is to take along pre-packaged foods unwrapped and make your sandwiches at the picnicking site.

BLOOD SHORTAGE

"I don't understand why there is such a shortage of blood when doctors now say they do everything possible to prevent need for transfusion," queries an alert Chula Vista high school girl.

Answer — It is true that physicians avoid blood replacement and succeed more often than in the past because of advances in surgery. But some new operations require more blood than ever before.

Operations requiring patient maintenance on a heart-lung machine are a good example. The machine must be "primed" with several units of blood before surgery can even begin. Blood requirements nationally are up to 12 per cent a year. Only three per cent of the population contributes regularly.

Because of a large crop this year, wheat acreage allotments for 1970 have been cut to 45.5 million acres, the smallest on record.

School Opens, Young Walkers Out In Force

"Be on the look-out for inexperienced walkers when school opens," Captain V. J. Herz of the California Highway Patrol urged drivers this week.

"We know that inexperienced drivers have more accidents than experienced drivers," Captain Herz said. "Inexperienced walkers have problems, too. Kindergarten and first grade students are starting one of the greatest adventures of their lives when they set off for school. Watch out for them on the road."

Captain Herz suggested that parents help young students with a period of safety training before school starts.

"Teach your youngster to cross only at intersections. Teach him to obey crossing guards. Instruct him about traffic signals. Teach him to use sidewalks whenever they are available and to walk facing traffic if he must use the shoulder of the roadway."

Tell him how long it takes an automobile to stop. Even very young children can understand the dangers of darting across the road in traffic, if the problem is explained," he said.

"The responsibility for student safety is shared by many people: the pupil, his family, the school district, traffic safety engineers, crossing guards, school officials and drivers."

"The California Highway Patrol is particularly concerned with the drivers," the Patrol official said. "The speed limit is 25 miles per hour when passing a school building or school grounds while children are going to or from school during opening or closing hours and during the noon recess period."

When the school grounds are not separated from the highway by a fence, the 25 miles per hour limit applies whenever the grounds are in use by children and the highway is posted with a "SCHOOL" warning sign."

Children on school buses become pedestrians as soon as they alight from a bus. The driver of any vehicle which meets or overtakes a school bus from either direction must stop immediately before passing the bus if it is displaying a flashing red light signal.

(It is not necessary to stop when the school bus is in the opposite lanes of a divided highway or when the stopped bus is not flashing its lights.)

All vehicles must follow directions of school crossing guards and junior traffic patrols, the CHP officer said.

Fries, Hale Win Main Events

Dick Fries, of Santee, took the lead on the sixth lap of the 55-lap Grand Prix, and held on to win by a quarter of a lap in the Modified Sportsman class at Cajon Speedway, last Friday, in 18:06.4.

The race, the last of the year, carried the added bonus of double points, which helped Fries roll up over 1700 points in winning his third points Championship.

Also on Friday night, it was Ed Hale of Lemon Grove, grabbing the honors in the main event for figure eight cars, leading all but three laps of the 20-lap race.

Hale had the lead after one lap, but lost it briefly when Mike Heuslein took over on the third lap. Hale muscled it back on the sixth lap and held on to win.

Chuck Neider managed second in the main, while Ben Weisegner took third. Bob Dean came in fourth and Larry Pemberton, of Lemon Grove, raced to fifth.

Lemon Grove's Dean Erwin proved to be tops in the trophy dash, while Hale and Mike Heuslein were tops in the heat races.

Fierce Points Battle At Cajon Speedway

With eight more races to go in the current season, the super stockers at Cajon Speedway are engaged in a fierce points battle.

Carl Adams remains atop the heap in the struggle, but Jim Whitt, of El Cajon, and Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, are not that far behind.

Saturday night will see these drivers, and many more, roar into action with hopes and dreams of first place money dancing before their eyes.

Keep an eye on Adams, who will be going after his seventh main event win of the year. Whitt and Hitt, the arch-rivals, and Ed Hale, the suicidal driver from Lemon Grove.

Others to keep in mind include John Deneen, Dick Guest, and Vance Butler. Most of these drivers have at least one main event win to their credit, and are hoping to be able to add to their collection.

In limited stock action, Dan Camp, Leon Kneival and Larry Cushman always manage to put on an exciting show. They will be battling it out in their eager (and sometimes over-eager) tradition.

Also on Saturday night, the ladies will jump into the guys' cars and will take off into the seventh running of the powder puff derby of the year.

Gals to put your money on are the illustrious Diane Porter, suicidal Joy Svencofsky, and El Cajon's "racing grand-

Adams Wins Cajon Stocks

Carl Adams outbattled John Deneen last Saturday night to win his sixth 30-lap main event of the year, over Cajon Speedway's 3/8 mile asphalt oval, in 9:49.72.

Deneen, with Adams right on his tail, took over the lead from Pat McIntyre on the fourteenth lap, only to have it stolen by Adams on the nineteenth lap. Deneen snuck by on the twentieth lap, but lost the top spot one lap later when Adams took it to keep.

Jim Whitt managed third in the wild and woolly affair, while Pat McIntyre grabbed fourth and Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, finished fifth.

Other top performances in the super stocks included a fast qualifying lap of 19.11, by Lemon Grove's Ed Hale.

It will be "Come One, Come All" Tuesday night when the Aztec Club holds its annual Kickoff Dinner at the Hilton Inn.

The evening will begin with a no-host cocktail hour beginning at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will start at 7:30.

San Diego State's gridiron coaches and the 1969 Aztecs will be the guests of honor with Ron Reina, the "Voice of the Aztecs" from KDOE radio, serving as Master of Ceremonies. Head coach Don Coryell will be the featured speaker.

Tickets for the banquet are priced at $7.50 and can be purchased at the dinner.

Rockets Train 17

SAN DIEGO — A total of 17 players, ten of them veterans of National Basketball Association play, will report to camp when the San Diego Rockets open pre-season training next week at the University of San Diego.

The Rockets will be entering their third year in the NBA after finishing fourth in the Western Division last season.

The ten veterans, led by All-Stars Elvin Hayes and Don Kojis, include guards Jim Barnett, Pat Riley, Art "Ham-bone" Williams, Rick Adelman and Stu Lantz and frontcourt men John Block, Toby Kimball and John Trapp.

Two members making up last season's 12-man roster, center Henry Finkel and guard Harry Barnes, are missing from this year's group. Finkel was recently sold to the Boston Celtics for an undisclosed amount of cash and a future draft choice and Barnes began a four-month tour of duty in the Army last month.

Races To End At Del Mar

DEL MAR — In what has every appearance of being one of the most contention-packed renewals in its 22-year history, a fancy field of the West's finest 2-year-olds will go post-ward today in the $104,270 gross Del Mar Futurity.

The six furlong classic draws the curtain on a highly successful summer season "where the turf meets the surf" with attendance expected to be up some five percent and pari-mutuel handle increased about 11.5 per cent for the 42-day whirl. These figures indicate a daily average attendance of 9,800 and a daily average handle of $990,000.

Ten or more will line up in the Futurity. Role of favoritism is expected to go to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Magerman's swift colts — George Lewis and King Khaled. The former has won twice here, including a 1:08 4/5 triumph.

Monte Vista Gridders Shed Blood, Sweat

by SCOTT McGAUGH

The 1969 football season began last week and with the first week of practice completed, Monte Vista grid fans have got to be optimistic.

The Monarchs gridders have three practices a day totaling five hours. The first practice starts at 7:30 a.m. with the third terminating at 9 p.m.

A scrimmage was held last Saturday as the squad was divided into two teams, the red and gold.

The winner ate fine chicken and the loser ate beans after the "chicken and beans" scrimmage.

Gulls Sign All Stars

The San Diego Gulls last week announced the signing of their two All-Star selections from last season — goalie Jack McMurtan and right winger Willie O'Ree.

Both McMurtan and O'Ree were voted to the Western Hockey League's second All-Star team last season in a poll of the WHL players.

McMurtan, 34, was a tower of strength for the Gulls in their early season surge. He finished with a 3.36 goals against average and a 20-15-6 won-and-loss record.

O'Ree, 33, had the finest year of his career. He scored 38 points, to match his career high, and added 41 assists for 79 points, both new highs for him. He was in the top ten scorers for the first time in his career.

It was the first time that either player had been selected to an All-Star team.

O'Ree signed a two-year contract and McMurtan agreed to a one-year pact.

"I am looking for big things from both of these men this season," said Gulls' General Manager Coach Max McNab. "They certainly deserved the All-Star recognition last season and they have proved that they both are among the best players in the league."

They will meet the Phoenix Roadrunners in the home opener Saturday, October 11, at the Sports Arena.

'Hornets Win Sox Title

The Lemon Grove bobby-sox minor league playoffs were held last week, and the Green Hornets came out on top to claim the title over the Blue Jays.

A party was immediately held, and trophies were awarded, furnished by B&J Appliances.

Members of the championship team were Julie and Anna Ledesma, Rhonda and Valerie Sones, Mary and Pat Brumbaugh, Susan O'Neill, and Marianne Drewett.

Others were: Denise Roux, Mindy Maness, Lori Davis, Karen Campbell, Jody Burris, Pam Jackson, and Sue Bare-

Durham Moved During Surgery By Kiwanians

Jack Durham, a long-time Lemon Grove insuranceman, is home from the hospital — temporarily.

Durham, a Kiwanian, whose office is at 7810 Golden ave., underwent surgery August 27, just days ahead of moving the family, from Di Foss st. in Lemon Grove to 3176 Central ave., Spring Valley.

A Kiwanis volunteer work party was organized by president Jerry Walter and member Kenneth Conrad, and they moved the Durhams "lock, stock and barrel".

Durham will re-enter Grossmont hospital for more surgery in two weeks and will again recuperate at home.

A week later he will make the third trip for the wrap-up. It will be two months before he will be able to tend his insurance business but his wife Margaret is doing the work for him.

"What a way to get out of work," says his friends. Incidentally, he was using none of his own services. "We didn't have medical insurance," Mrs. Durham said.

National Airlines in August established a record for San Diego passenger traffic by boarding 7,005 passengers during the month.

Shop UC Market For Tasty Courses

If University of California Extension is a "supermarket of education," as someone has said, then San Diegans can add learning to their shopping lists this fall.

More than 210 courses and special programs, ranging in subject from acoustics to zoning laws, are listed in EX-PORE, the University Extension catalog, now available upon request.

Not only have regular course offerings in such areas as education, business and engineering been increased substantially, but the selection of special programs has been doubled. And all University Extension classes may be charged on BankAmericard.

Socially concerned shoppers in the education market may choose "The City: Human Dream or Nightmare?", "The Establishment" or they may want to hear what Gen. Hershey's spokesman and a leading advocate of volunteer armies have to say about "The Draft."

The housewife's rule, "Don't go shopping when you're hungry" applies when prospective students consider the gourmet weekend, "Food and Wine at Arrowhead" or any of four courses concerning Mexican, Chinese, French and Central European cooking.

Those who enjoy shopping in neighborhood groceries might select "Land and Life in Mexico: Baja California," which includes a week's study trip to Baja with La Paz as headquarters.

If people are more important to you than any other commodity, there are "people" programs on University Extension's shelves: "Self-Actualization Workshop," "The Challenge to Women," "Awareness Through Creative Aesthetic Encounters," "Understanding Mental Illness" and "Counseling on Alcoholism," as well as several psychology classes.

Do you survive on the arts rather than by bread alone? University Extension offers "The Language of Film," "The New World of Sound," "The Instruments of Jazz," "The Arts Now" and "The Sound of Silent Films."

As a result of an expanded education department, University Extension offers several special programs for teachers this fall: a three-quarter series of courses dealing with the social sciences in elementary schools, an expanded class in sex education and a course in drug education.

Among other University Extension "specials" this quarter are: "Frontiers in Space" (a Nobel prize winner and other top scientists will explain what out of this world's going on) and "Today's Problems in Medicine," an examination of such earthly problems as headaches, skin cancer and organ transplants.

If you shop from day to day instead of on a long-range basis, you'll like University Extension's largest offering ever of one-day conferences on everything from "Obscenity and Pornography" to "Firming up the Flabby American."

And if you're "just looking," browse through your own copy of EX-PORE. To get one, call 453-2000, ext. 2061.

AB 720, provides for the Sweetwater Flood Control Project in conjunction with the building of Highway 54 through Sweetwater Valley.

AB 1113 changes a mandatory provision to a permissive one of having school districts pay half of the costs required for traffic surveys or safety studies near school areas.

U.S. Savings Stamps Make Thrift Patterns

Lemon Grove Postmaster "Frenchy" Faucher today called attention on start of the new school year to the educational opportunities in the U.S. Savings Stamps Program for children training for success patterns in life.

U. S. Savings Stamps are available at the Lemon Grove Post Office and offer a fine chance for young people to get the collector's instinct in thrift training.

Parents, teachers and children should consider the vital role of thrift, systematic thrift in establishing patterns of success in formulating patterns for success.

U. S. Savings Stamps — their regular purchase — provide this learning. They stimulate the motivation for a disciplined and successful life.

Buyers of U. S. Savings Bonds annually put more than $5 billion in these Shares in America, and add to the more than $52 billion invested in such individual and family security.
